WE ARE MESSENGERS EXTENDS WHOLEHEARTED TOUR
TO 30 ADDITIONAL CITIES THIS FALL

Presented by Compassion International,
Fall Tour Kicks Off Sept. 29, with Special Guests Jordan St. Cyr and Ryan Ellis

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – July 22, 2022 – Chart-topping band We Are Messengers has announced plans for a 30-city fall leg of The Wholehearted Tour following a successful 19-city run earlier in the spring. Presented by Compassion International, the fall tour features special guests Jordan St. Cyr and Ryan Ellis. Launching Sept. 29, The Wholehearted Tour will travel to cities in Alabama, Mississippi, Virginia, New Jersey, North Carolina, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Colorado, Arkansas and more before wrapping up in mid-November.

“The Wholehearted USA headlining tour is back this fall and we can’t wait to be with our people again and see God move in extraordinary ways,” says We Are Messengers frontman Darren Mulligan. “This tour has changed us and the many thousands who have joined us already on these nights. We are honored and excited to be reaching even wider this time around. These shows are going to be special. They will matter. Come ready to dance, to sing and to praise God with His people. We need that more than ever!”

The Wholehearted Tour takes its name from the award-winning group’s third full-length studio album, Wholehearted, which dropped in October. Wholehearted boasts the band’s chart-topping hit single, “Come What May,” which topped Billboard’s Christian Airplay chart and maintained the #1 position on the Mediabase CCM Audience chart for 14 weeks.

Tickets for The Wholehearted Tour are on sale now in most markets, while additional tour dates and on-sale announcements will be forthcoming. Ticket options in most markets include a VIP package offering an artist Q&A, souvenir laminate and early entry. Information on concert dates and ticket links can be found at wearemessengersmusic.com.

ABOUT WE ARE MESSENGERS

We Are Messengers has 350 million on-demand global streams and boasts six Top 5 and ten Top 10 Christian Airplay hits with “Image of God,” “Power,” “Maybe It’s Ok,” “Magnify,” “Point To You,” “Love,” “Everything Comes Alive,” “God With Us,” “This Is Jesus” and “From Heaven To Earth (Joy To The World).” The band’s last album, Power +, features the award-winning self-acceptance anthem, “Maybe It’s Ok,” which was hailed as “air to a drowning man” by Rawkus Magazine, and “potent, effective and liberating” by Arianna Huffington’s Thrive Global.

We Are Messengers' brand new album, Wholehearted, released Oct. 15, 2021, featuring the band's brand new No. 1 radio single, "Come What May." The band has played for a live audience of over 2 million people across 40 states and 5 countries, including selling out shows in the Netherlands, England, and lead vocalist Darren Mulligan's native Ireland. The Dove-nominated and K-LOVE Award winning group joined TobyMac's Hits Deep Tour in early 2021, and followed by hitting the road with Casting Crowns' Healer Tour earlier this year. ABOUT JORDAN ST. CYR

Jordan St. Cyr is a husband and a father of two boys and two girls. Using his gifts of songwriting and performing to share the Gospel with the world, it was "Fires," his career hit single, that appeared on the Billboard Christian Airplay charts for 45 weeks and climbed in the top 5. The song continues to reach millions weekly followed by "Weary Traveler," which was No. 1 for multiple weeks on multiple charts. His latest single is "No Matter What," now at radio.

St. Cyr began 2022 by being named the No. 2 Top New Christian Artist of 2021, according to Billboard, which also listed "Fires" in four of the top year-end Christian songs charts. He also performed at the annual March For Life in Washington, D.C. in front of thousands and completed a tour with Anne Wilson before he joined Jeremy Camp's "I Still Believe Tour." Fall and Christmas tour plans are now underway while he is spending the summer on the festival circuit. For more information, go to jordanstcyr.com.

ABOUT RYAN ELLIS

With songwriting talents that have allowed him to pen songs for Matt Redman, Natalie Grant, Meredith Andrews, Steven Malcolm, Housefires, and more, California-based worship artist and songwriter Ryan Ellis also wrote Chris Tomlin's "Resurrection Power," earning him a GMA Dove Award nomination and ASCAP's "Most Performed Song" award in 2018. His debut radio single, "Heart Of The Father," reached No. 2 at Mediabase and has received more than 34M streams to date.

With music that is packed with influences from pop to R&B and depth-filled lyrics and worshipful introspection wrapped in bright melodies that play like a summer drive down the Pacific Coast Highway, Ellis' songs offer modern worship as fulfilling as they are entertaining. Currently touring with Maverick City and Kirk Franklin as a member of Housefires, Ellis' resides in southern California with his wife and two children and is represented by maddjett.
